OWENSBORO TAFT CLUB.

Effective Organization of Republicans in Daviess County.

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 4.—A large Taft club was organized here last night, Charles A. Hughes was elected president, and Judge J. A. Dean, vice president.

Former District Attorney George W. Jolly was elected chairman of the executive committee. Enthusiastic speeches were made, and the organization in the interest of the great war secretary is considered a very effective one.

A vigorous campaign for him will be waged until the close of the Republican convention.

COMMON SENSE

Leads most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrappers and attest its correctness under oath, are daily growing in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody. Dr. Pierce being desirous of having the search light of investigation turned fully upon his formula, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized.

Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that), yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hang-on-coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.

Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time to get the full benefit. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of lay or non-professional testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

THEATRICAL NOTES

At The Kentucky.
Tonight—"The Gingerbread Man."
Wednesday night—"Quincy Adams Sawyer."
Thursday night—"The Great Divide."

"The Gingerbread Man."
Many people who saw "The Gingerbread Man" last season will attend tonight. This is a fairly extravagant and appeals particularly to children, though the delightfully droll adventures of the Mother Goose characters, the scenery, the rollicking music and the clever specialties, place the production above the average musical comedy. The spirit of the piece is wholesome.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer."
"Quincy Adams Sawyer," which comes to The Kentucky Wednesday night, is one of the best of New England rural comedies, devoid of the trite characters of the rural melodrama. It has a reputation already established.

"The Great Divide."
The Memphis News-Scimitar says of "The Great Divide":
Labeled "the great American drama" and boasting the proud distinction of having created more discussion and received more critical approval than any play of native origin in many years, "The Great Divide" opened an engagement of two night performances and a matinee at the Lyceum Wednesday evening, and was greeted by an audience eager to wit-

There was much discussion in regard to dramatizing "Quincy Adams Sawyer" between the publishers and both of those who did and those who did not do the dramatization. A theatrical manager who tried to secure the dramatic rights, and might have had them if he had not insisted on having the dramatization made his way maintained that to make a strong play from the book he would introduce an entirely new and strong melodramatic plot which was not in the novel. He wanted to have some lost wills, farm mortgages, city villains and wronged girls, like all the other rural plays. The publishers, however, maintained that there would be a great advantage in having a dramatization that followed the book closely—it would be something new in more ways than one.

The results since the play has been before the public, the last six seasons, have proved the wisdom of their holding to their views. The business has been phenomenal throughout the whole country, and one hears a great deal of interest manifested in the approaching engagement, at The Kentucky, Wednesday, January 22.
